• BARBARA HANBY, president of Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary, introduced new members of Tassels, sophomore women's honorary, at the Big Sisters tea held yesterday.

Those girls named as active members were Adeline Andrews, Greta Ruth Atkins, Dorothy Balzer, Ann Bradshaw, Grace Bunker, Dorothy Cherry, Betty Covell, Ann Diffenderfer, Frances Ellen Eagan, Sally Evans, Marjorie Ann Hall, Edna Joy Ivie, Betty King, Eileen Krauss, Judith Kutz, Nancy Lee Lynn, Winifred MacGowan, Mildred McDowell, Margaret Mendenhall, Nadia Messing, Neala Nordstrom, Jana Pierce, Sylvia Srnka, Barbara Stone, Jo Ann Walsh, and Carol Westbrook.

Qualifications for active membership include scholarship and interest in activities. Girls considered must have completed between 25 and 35 credit hours and have at least a 2.5 quality point index. Participation in campus activities is also required.

Girls with a 3.0 average or higher who have no record in activities are tapped as probationary members. Probationary members who serve in activities for at least one semester will at that time be accepted as full members.

New probationary members announced yesterday are Mildred Benson, Ann Courtright, Maryse Delevaux, Norma Evenson, Jean Fraser, Jean Hartley, Doris Johnston, Pearl Kline, Shirley Labowitz, Suzette Lovewell, Mary Louise Nason, Kathryn Plugge, Betty Ann Price, Peggie Jane Watkins, Mary Lois Warren, Gloria Yocum, and Cella Wicks.

Tassels, organized last year by Mortar Board, states its purpose is "to encourage constructive consideration of campus problems, to promote the dual importance of maintaining high scholarship and serving in activities, and to promote greater college loyalty."

Tassels' major project last year was the Leadership Conference, which included pointers on parliamentary procedure, campus organization, and student government.

Orientation Closes With Lisner Party

• CLIMAXING the Orientation Program this year, a dance will be held on Lisner Terrace, Friday, from 8:00 to 11:00 p. m. Small tables will be set up and refreshments will be served, while Ray Payne's orchestra will provide music for dancing.

The "Quintones," singing waiters from "Going Native," will provide entertainment and service.

President Marvin, General Grant and the various deans and directors of the University will be in a receiving line from 8 to 9 p. m. to personally welcome all the new students on the campus. In the event of rain, the affair will be held in the gym.

New students were officially welcomed yesterday in Lisner Auditorium at two general assemblies, held in the afternoon and evening. President Marvin spoke on behalf of the university and Fremont Jewell, president of the Student Council, explained the functions of that organization.

The band, under the direction of Leon Brusiloff, played for community singing, which Dr. Harmon, assisted by a portion of the University Glee Club, led.

Campus organizations were represented by booths in the downstairs lounge, so that new students might sign up for activities in which they were interested. A pictorial review of the highlights of last year's activities was on display in the upper lobby of the auditorium. Handbooks were on sale in the upper and lower lobbies.

Enrollment Nears 13,000 Jarman States

• APPROXIMATELY 13,000 students have registered for the fall term, Dr. Burnice Jarman, University Registrar announced this week. Of this number almost one-fourth are new students.

Dr. Jarman stated that aside from a few scattered instances of crowding that were observed, the registration systems seemed to work satisfactorily. He attributed this to a decentralized registration set-up and the spirit of co-operation displayed by the students.

Procedure closely followed that of last year with forms secured at the Registrar's Office, filled out in the Student Club, taken to the Dean for approval, and finally to the cashier.

Decentralization was accomplished by having each subject assigned to a different room.

Comparison with last year's registration shows that the University enrollment has increased by about 3,000. Approximately half the students admitted last year were new or readmitted.

Rough Registration Rumpus Plays Havoc With Last Strains Of Summer Serenade

By Gerry Lieblich

• THOSE LINES you've been seeing the last few days weren't queues for entry into the Gayety, for tickets to the World Series, or the Fourteenth Crusade; that was The University Registration. Everyone has been trying to beat this racket for years but to no avail. Invariably, you'll find yourself getting the rear view of some fellow-sufferer's bald cranium for several hours while the guy behind you uses your back for a writing desk.

You know, it's really so fine returning to school after a long summer away from your friends. While you're standing in line for a few hours, buddy after buddy runs up with that wild look in his eyes and start the "Didya have nice summer?" routine. While you're explaining that the bathing was divine, and the sun-tan, delicious, Old Buddy is worming his way in ahead of you along with several other "pals" you've never seen before. "Yes, it's great to see the old gang again," you tell yourself as you're gently being pushed back towards the Potomac.

Let me inform you here and now, friends, that the only procedure that doesn't have lines three miles long is at the Cashier's Office.

There are always the guys who try in vain to arrange a schedule according to their tastes and desires. You're apt to trip over some fresh-air fiend trying to arrange a whole schedule of courses like "The Gastronomical History of the Blue-Nosed Gnu in His Natural Habitat."

Then there are the wide-eyed freshmen, striving to be lawyers, who wait for hours to sign up for "The Legal History of Red Ants in Saudi Arabia N. W.," only to find that six years previous study is required.

When you're all finished and have palsy from filing out blanks, you crawl to your dean to get the final O.K. He smiles and explains that your advisor must first add his "X."

"Who," you ask, "is my advisor?"

"Oh, there are loads of them gadding about," he smiles back. Whereupon the shrewd cookies will run out to the street, get the nearest cabdriver to scribble a few initials at well-spaced intervals, and you're off to the Finish!

To sum up the whole mess, I quote from Shakespeare's Hamlet on the Laceration Situation at Registration.

"Alas, New Yorick, I shoulda stood there!"

Medical School Receives Portrait

• LESS SCIENCE and more so-called cultural subjects are needed in the pre-medical curriculum, Rear Admiral Herbert L. Pugh emphasized at the Medical School's convocation which opened the school's 124th year of classes.

Speaking of factors in medical education which need attention, the assistant Surgeon General of the Navy emphasized the need for shortening the medical course without lowering standards, and the need for good general practitioners, as well as a broader background for the embryo doctor.

Eighty-six new freshmen, including nine women, representing 26 states and 60 colleges, were welcomed by Dr. Marvin and Dr. Bloedorn. They saw 31 new faculty members and a roster of distinguished guests including the Surgeon General of the Army introduced, and listened to an outline of their future in the traditional opening exercises.

Another highlight of the ceremony was the unveiling and presentation to the school of a portrait of Dr. Howard F. Kane, late professor of obstetrics, by Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., of the Board of Trustees. This portrait is to hang in the physician's room in the obstetrical suite of the new University Hospital.

The convocation was closed by Dr. Bloedorn's explanation of the new orientation program for freshmen, in which they would spend two weeks being introduced to the whole field of medicine under the guidance of their clinical and pre-clinical instructors. This is an innovation designed to make the transition to a new type of education less difficult.

In regard to the meeting of the students and faculty, Dr. Bloedorn sent the neophytes off with a wish that both the students and the faculty would be able to survive the shock.

Something New

• BY FAR THE pleasantest shock of last week was the unprecedented excellence of our new Student Handbook. The phenomenon of a Handbook being distributed at the beginning of the school year, when it is most necessary, was in itself gratifying. Its warm reception, however, may be chiefly attributed to its careful planning and skillful execution.

Organizational ability of Editor Chuck Plyer, combined with the zeal of his capable staff, has produced an inclusive, yet concise, resume of general university information for the coming year.

The most artistic accomplishment of its staff is the clever interweaving of the light touch with the basic facts to be presented. This "light touch" is strikingly presented in the glossary and in the illustrations preceding each section of the book.

Bob Reiss, the artist, besides showing a finished style of drawing not too often encountered in college periodicals, has included some refreshing nuances of humor that invite careful study of each sketch.

The fact that this Handbook was produced at a cost of fifteen cents per copy is further proof of the remarkably good planning behind it.

The Hatchet extends its enthusiastic congratulations to the Handbook editor and staff with the hope that future editors in future years will emulate their unique production, that is able to entertain as it informs.

Something Old

• REVIEWING UNIVERSITY HISTORY of recent years, we find that each new year brings old figures back to the limelight, as holders of key positions on campus. Quite often, these celebrities change titles, causing a momentary impression that new leaders have taken charge.

It is amazing that a university with an enrollment of so many is represented by so few in its major activities and endeavors. The appearance of so many new organizations with promising futures, along with the increase in the student body would seem to indicate that the time was ripe for some changes. With the possible linking of these two factors, new faces and names should come to the foreground.

This University can encompass a wider scope of interests than it has been able to in former years. Greater student participation would be welcomed.

We hope that new students will take an active interest in what the University offers, and that the old students will catch some of their enthusiasm and inject new life into all campus activities. Gentlemen:

Letters To The Editors

Greetings to the Freshman Class and welcome to our University. It is anticipated that this year will be one of tremendous activity beginning Monday morning at the sound of the first bell. From then on you will be adjusting yourselves to a new routine, getting your academics under control, and we hope, joining us in some of the many extra-curricular activities. How does one find out about these activities? Read the Student Handbook, meet the campus leaders and familiarize yourselves with the program schedule so that you may know when and where these opportunities will strike.

You are now a part of our student body, and we trust that soon you will become familiar campus figures and a motivating force in all phases of our student life. We'll be seeing you. Good luck.

Sincerely,
FREMONT JEWELL
President, Student Council

Additional Band Funds Enable Wider Program

• STRENGTHENED BY an increased budget allotment, the University Band will follow its initial appearance at the Virginia football game in Charlottesville last Saturday with an enlarged year-long program of trips, concerts and rallies, Director Leon Brusiloff announces.

"A bigger and better University Band will be made possible this year through an increased budget allotment," Brusiloff says. "I've always dreamed of a hundred-piece outfit, and there's no reason why we shouldn't achieve it this year."

The Band will travel in chartered buses, with all expenses paid, to several out-of-town football games during the season. In that way it will support increased student attendance at nearby games, such as those with V. M. I. and Washington and Lee.

Leading the Band will be baton-twirler Bill Brooks and a corps of drum-majorettes.

Formed out of the regular band will be a smaller Pep Rally Band, which will play at rallies during the football season and at Homecoming.

During the winter, Band activities will include appearances at all the basketball games in Uline Arena.

In the spring, at least two concerts will be scheduled, on dates to be announced later.

Rehearsals are at 1:30 p. m., Sundays, in Studio A of Lisner Auditorium. New members will be welcomed, whether or not they own instruments or have played recently. Prospective members may attend any rehearsal, or call Director Leon Brusiloff at SLigo 6468.

Methodists

At this meeting, Kirsten explained, members will have the opportunity to express their views on the types of programs desired. Already mentioned have been discussions on current European and American literary trends, the drama, and Thomas Wolfe.

Betty Keeler Explains Sorority Rush Program

• PANHELLENIC Council's rushing program was explained to prospective rushees Saturday at 4 p. m. in Strong Hall Lounge by Betty Keeler, president of the Association.

Eligibility requirements are similar to those of previous years. Although registration closed on September 27, latecomers registered at the desk in Sorority Hall, 2129 G. Street.

All rushees were required to attend Open House and visit all sororities. Thirteen name cards were given to each rushee, one to be given to each sorority when visited during Open House. A day student must be registered for at least twelve hours work in the University, while a full-time employed student must be carrying six hours for eligibility.

Rush parties, interspaced over a two week period, from September 27 through October 9, have been carefully adjusted to the Student Council and Big Sisters programs to avoid conflicting dates.

These affairs will be more numerous, enabling the large number of girls registering for rushing to visit more sororities and become acquainted with a greater number of sorority members, before making their final choice.

The program, divided into six periods, enables a rushee to proceed from period to period, gradually narrowing her choice. The rushee visits all sororities during the First Period, Open House; eight different sororities during the Second Period; four or five different sororities during the Third Period; three different sororities during the Fourth Period; two different sororities during the Fifth Period; and makes her final decision by signing her preference slip during the Sixth Period.

One of the most important rush rules is the "No Communication" rule stating: "No sorority girl may communicate (verbally or in writing) on or off campus, with any rushee between rush affairs, except during freshman activities sponsored by the Student Council." This rule went into effect at Open House, September 28, and will be in effect until 9 a. m. Thursday, October 9. The ruling also applies to the dormitories and the Faculty Club. Rushees are requested to be out of sorority rooms within fifteen minutes after the close of any rush function, and are not permitted to be in sorority rooms between rush parties.

As in previous years, rushees will receive and answer their invitations at the Panhellenic Post Office in Columbian House. The office is being manned by representatives from City Panhellenic Association.

LAW STUDENT vs INFLATION

ACTION: For permanent injunction against overpriced law books.

FACTS: Price of law books now raised to a height beyond reason. Books bound in paper and no reduction in price. Law Student (Plaintiff) takes action to halt publishers (Defendant) in his race for almighty dollar.

ISSUES: 1. Can Plaintiff afford current prices?
2. Can he do anything about it?

PLAINTIFF'S

ANSWERS: 1. NO!!!

2. Can he do anything about it?
a. Avoid buying NEW books when possible.
b. Create market for USED books by demanding them. By selling his books when he is done with them. The BIGGER the DEMAND for used books, the bigger the return when he sells them.

DEFENDANTS'

CONTENTION: I want.

DECISION

by Judge LOGIC

NO LEGAL RELIEF CAN BE GRANTED, HOWEVER; UNIFIED CONCERTED ACTION ON THE PART OF PLAINTIFF CAN GRADUALLY ELIMINATE DEFENDANT'S REGAL SUPREMACY. MOST CERTAINLY THE CREATION OF AN INTENSE DEMAND FOR USED LAW BOOKS AND THE TRADING THEREIN IS THE ONLY REMEDY AVAILABLE TO PLAINTIFF.

Phi Sigs Prepare For Housewarming

By LEW HOFFACKER

• LIGHTS ARE BLAZING tonight and every night as the Phi Sigs work on the swing and graveyard shifts to ready their new place at 1734 New Hampshire Avenue, N. W. for the housewarming and evening.

Chances are that the last carpet will be laid as the first guest arrives. Nevertheless the brothers are optimistic that everything will be in order so that the affair will be nothing less than spectacular.

The boys are searching fraternity constitutions and by-laws for regulations against sweeping trash under rugs. As yet, no demerit system has been discovered for gum found under seats. The Phi Sig Quartermaster Corps has distributed white gloves to committee chairmen, for window sill inspection.

Invitations to attend the affair have been sent to all campus organizations. The chapter president wishes it to be known, however, that all University students and professors are cordially invited to drop in at the housewarming commencing at 4:00 p. m. and continuing through the evening.

Council Reveals Policy About Class Elections

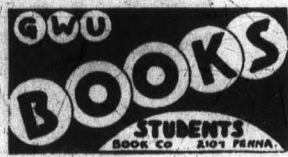

• CLASS ELECTIONS, to be held between October 15 and November 15, will be "open" this year in regard to advertising and electioneering, announced Student Council Advocate Bill Wendt last week.

"Vote 5,000" is the slogan of Wendt's campaign to bring out the largest student vote in the history of the University. Plans for the election include a speaker forum besides the liberalized advertising policy. Advertising last year was limited to ten dollars.

Advocate Wendt hopes that the officers this year will be "functional, not merely honorary." The positions to be filled for each class are president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.

Included in the class elections will be the selection of a student-at-large for the Student Council. This post is provided under the new Council constitution.

Members of the elections committee have been appointed and will be announced later, said Advocate Wendt. Complete election rules and the election program will also be published at a later date.

Cogs Calls For Student Volunteer

• VOLUNTEER workers are greatly in demand, according to COGS, College Organization for General Service. Hospital aides are needed as much now as during the war. Supervisors and handicraft instructors for children's homes and playgrounds are also in demand. Talented students to form entertainment teams have been requested by the Rehabilitation Bureau to visit detention homes and prisons.

These volunteer positions provide excellent practical experience to the participants. Students interested in devoting a few hours a week to volunteer work should call Ann Fisher, FA 2821-J or leave their names and addresses in the office of the Director of Women's Activities. COGS asserts that men students interested in the COGS program will be welcomed.

Decorators To Labor On Floats

• HOMECOMING THIS YEAR will feature a pep rally and bonfire followed by an All-Fraternity Open House October 30, announced Co-chairmen Fred James, Jim Day and Helen O'Leary.

The headless horsemen of Foggy Bottom will ride in a float parade from the campus to Griffith Stadium. The decorative talents of all campus organizations, shown last year in house decorations, will be judged as the floats parade around Griffith Stadium before the Colonials tangle with the V. P. I. Gobblers.

The coronation of the Homecoming Queen will be celebrated with a gala dance at the new District of Columbia National Guard Armory Saturday night, November 1. Claude Thornhill's orchestra will alternate with Jack Morton's to supply the musical background for the celebration.

Recently in New York, Day and James heard Thornhill in the Hotel Pennsylvania's Cafe Rouge. They enthusiastically confirm reports from Bill Gottlieb, music critic for the Washington Post, that "Thornhill has one of the • EXPANSION OF the Reserve Collection to the former Periodical Room marks one of the several changes in Lisner Library during the summer under the supervision of Librarian John Russell Mason.

Expansion, Additions Aid Library Facilities

Under the new set-up, which includes a circulation desk servicing both rooms through the center hall, seats for readers of reserved books have been increased from 148 to 225.

Aid Disabled Vets

• DISABLED student veterans having difficulty in walking from their parking space to University classes are requested to get in touch with the Veteran's office in Building Q. Mitchell Dreese, director of Veteran's Education announced that plans are underway to provide special parking facilities for such veterans.

best bands in the country and is definitely producing great music."

New York model agency men, John Powers and Harry Conover, as well as Hollywood showman Earl Carroll have been called in to do the preliminary judging of the candidates, chosen by the sororities and dorms, for Homecoming Queen. From the finalists the editors of Pic magazine will choose the girl who will be crowned at the Homecoming dance.

An expanded reference collection on the second floor is now shelved in the Main Reading Room, the Card Catalogue Room, and at the Main Circulation Desk. In the former Reference Room on the second floor, library books and materials are catalogued and prepared for use.

Three oil paintings have been hung in the Main Reading Room, "W. W. Corcoran," by Henry Ulke; "Dean William Allen Wilbur," by A. S. Meryman; and "Professor Charles Clinton Swisher," by Anne Kownotski.

On the third floor, the former Processing Room has been converted into a Periodical and Map Room with new steel closed stacks for current periodicals, five new map file cases, a new circulation desk, and tables and seats for 64 readers.

Other changes are the erection of a partition in the second floor hall to eliminate noise from the entrance hall and elevator, and the placing of fluorescent lights in all library reading rooms.

The Cadets are flying again!

The U. S. Air Force now offers you the chance of a lifetime to start your career in aviation.

If you want to learn to fly, you have one of the finest opportunities ever offered in peacetime. Aviation Cadet pilot training has been reopened to qualified applicants presently serving enlistments in the Army, and to civilian young men who can meet the same high standards.

In order to be eligible, each applicant must be: a single male citizen, between 20 and 26½ years old, of excellent character and physically fit. He must have completed at least one half the credits leading to a degree from an accredited college or university, or be able to pass a mental examination given by the USAF. He must now be living within the continental limits of the United States.

Upon successful completion of the training course, Cadets will be rated as pilots, commissioned Second Lieutenants, and assigned to flying duty.

Reactivation of Aviation Cadet pilot training is only one of the several choices open to outstanding men who want increased responsibility and advancement in the field of aviation. It is now possible for qualified men to apply for attendance at USAF Officer Candidate School—and thus be able to equip themselves for such important specialties as engineering, armament, administration and supply.

You have a real chance to make progress and build a sound career for yourself in today's U. S. Air Force. Talk it over with the Recruiting Officer today at any U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

New Clubs Recognized By Council

• DURING THE SUMMER the University Student Council, under the leadership of Fremont Jewell, accepted two new campus organizations, the Pistol Club and the Radio Workshop.

Another decision of the Council was to abandon entirely closed nights.

In order to facilitate the sale of tickets to campus functions, the Council has established a ticket agency in Lisner Auditorium.

At the last Council meeting a committee was appointed to formulate plans to publish The Hatchet. It consists of John Dwyer, comptroller; Bill Wendt, advocate, and Jim Speaks, freshman director.

Details of The Cherry Tree reorganization will be announced in the near future.

Annuals Delayed

The Religious Council this year is made up of three representatives from each club.

Dr. Folkemer has expressed great satisfaction at the interest shown by the students in the new religious subjects. The enrollments have far exceeded the expectations of the department and include students from each religious affiliation.

The Chapel is to be held each

Thursday at noon in the Western Presbyterian Church auditorium, 1906 H Street, N. W. Lunch will be served at cost to enable students to make 1 p. m. classes. Speakers at the Chapel will include representatives of each faith.

The Religious Council Rally will launch this year's religious program on October 8, in Strong Hall Lounge at 8 p. m. Dr. Folkemer will be the featured speaker for the occasion. Earl Miller will act as entertainment director while the Rev. William Sprekel, advisor for Lutheran students at the university, will lead the singing.

COLONIALS DROP DEBUT, 33-13

Nordholm Captains Buff Crew

By B. M. HELFRICK

• THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY Sailing Association will open its fall season with three nationally known sailing coaches and 10 new boats bought for them by the university. Max Farrington, faculty advisor, plans an active season in the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association program for the newly formed sailing team headed by last year's team captain, Eric Nordholm.

The team will receive its schedule from the I.C.Y.R.A. later this week.

Gardner Cox, Long Island Sound hot-shot and internationally known racing skipper, will head up the team's coaching staff, assisted by Leigh Britte, former Intercollegiate Dinghy and Star-boat champion, and Herm Hanson, Dinghy and 110 Class champion from M. I. T. Hanson is a long-time leader of intercollegiate sailing.

Cox will inaugurate an intensified training program destined to develop the expected rush of skipper students into a heavy-weight competitor for the Intercollegiate Championships.

This year's crew will include Pat Granger, one of the best girl skippers ever to turn up in intercollegiate competition. High point skipper at many of the meets last year, she is rapidly becoming regarded as one of the best skippers in the business. Although the team lost its other girl skipper, Gene Cheney, when she married a member of the team, they expect to find several more to break into Gene's position on the squad.

Bill Hastings, high-point man in the Princeton Regatta here last spring, is another member of the original squad that will be on hand this fall. He has had a full season in intercollegiate sailing and is expected to do even better this year, putting him in line for the Intercollegiate Championships.

• GEORGE WASHINGTON SKIPPERS THRASHED out a 116 to 91 victory over the Kings Point Cadets Sunday in an exciting series with the United States Merchant Marine Academy. After the first three races there was a three way tie between George Washington, the Cadets, and sailors from Lehigh, at 24 points, with the boys from Syracuse already out of the running. The afternoon races saw a continual rotation of Colonial skippers. Bill Hastings, high point skipper for the G. W. team, took two firsts in the eight race series.

Other promising men, Arch Harrison, Harvey Lekson and Jack Smith are fast becoming hot competition for last year's work horses and are expected to bear the weight of much of this year's racing.

George Washington's boats, which have just arrived from the Allied Air Corporation, were designed by Phil Rhodes, creator of many ocean racers and well-known designer of racing dinghies.

The "Tempests" are 12 feet long and made of moulded plywood. They carry 80 square feet of sail on aluminum spars. They are undoubtedly the fastest dinghies owned by any university on the East Coast, and their varnished mahogany hulls will make them one of the most beautiful fleets of dinghies in the country.

The boats will be ready to sail as soon as water facilities can be found. Nordholm told Hatchet reporters that he is looking for some more racing skippers to round out his already overloaded squad and to aid in his program of training novices.

Skippers who wish to join the association should leave their name and address either with the Athletic Office, the Sports Department of The Hatchet or contact the officers, Eric Nordholm, at Dupont 9645 or Pat Granger at HO. 9568.

IFC Plans Fall Sports Program

• INTRA-FRATERNITY sports competition for the current season opens Sunday morning, October 12, at the Ellipse, where seven football games have been scheduled for fourteen of the fifteen competing fraternity teams. Season play is expected to close in mid-December with championship play-offs with the Independent league winner.

Rules governing actual play have been changed to include authorization of the use of regulation football cleats in all intra-fraternity games. This change is expected to alter offensive tactics to include more ground plays. Last season saw some what exaggerated stress on passing, but this year with firmer footing on the slippery grass at the Ellipse additional speed will allow use of effective running attacks.

Inter-Fraternity Council is now revising administrative regulations in cooperation with the Intramural department in an effort to smooth out difficulties encountered in the past year which was the re-opening of competition after the war's completion.

More explicit rules governing postponements and forfeitures have been proposed for acceptance by the IFC to facilitate prompt play-offs with Independent league champions. A proposal to have an IFC athletic representative officiate each week at the scene of activity has been designed to have on-the-spot official liaison with all teams desiring to postpone events or have rulings made regarding forfeitures.

Possibility of an Inter-Fraternity All Sports Award to be given at the end of the year by IFC is being considered at this time, the Award being presented to the winning Fraternity on the basis of team accomplishments in the eight sports sponsored by the Greeks.

KLINE AND CLOSE SCORE FOR BUFFS

By SKIP FOSTER

• AFTER SCORING within the first seven minutes of play, the University of Virginia's fleet-footed Cavaliers went on to pound out a 33-13 margin over a hard fighting Colonial eleven in the opening game of the season at Scott Stadium last Saturday.

Although the Virginia team was never in trouble and rolled up 20 points before the Buff team made its first tally, it may be noted that the Colonials went into Saturday's game with five top players sidelined due to injuries.

Dropping this opening game of the season does not in any way dull the outlook for a fine Colonial season. During certain spots of the contest the team clicked perfectly and their aerial attack was particularly effective. Also outstanding was the heads-up defensive play of Joe Wapinsky, freshman back, and Johnny Grinnell, center.

The first score in the game came after the Cavaliers had marched down to the Colonials' 4-yard line. Virginia's left halfback, Bruce Bailey, then plunged over the goal line where he fumbled and then recovered to make the tally good. George Grimes converted.

Virginia scored again in the first period after quarterback Joe McCary knifed his way through the line and dashed from his own 49 to the 35-yard line, where he was trapped. Before being knocked down, however, he lateraled back to fullback Grover Jones, who scooted across the goal. Grimes' attempt for the extra point was low.

The Colonials threatened toward the end of the first period when they fought their way from their own 28 down to the Cavaliers' 33 on two first downs by Frank Skinner and one by Charlie Butler. After failing to get any more yardage, Colonials' Johnny Mazero kicked out of bounds.

In the second period the Cavaliers scored again after Bailey took a punt from Mazero and racing to his right, handed the pigskin off to Jones who ran 60 yards to pay dirt. Grimes converted.

The first Colonial tally came toward the closing minutes of the second period when, after the Buffmen brought the ball down to the Virginia 48, Johnny Mazero heaved a beautiful 47 yard aerial to freshman halfback Jimmy Kline, who made a brilliant over-the-head catch and scored for six points. Frank Cavallo kicked the extra point while Howard Williams held.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Virginia team came back to score again when Cavalier George Neff intercepted a pass thrown by Joe Armezzani, Buff back, and ran it to the Colonial 44. The Cavaliers then worked the ball down to the 10 and John Papit carried for the touchdown. Grimes' attempt for the extra point was blocked.

Dick Michels set up the final Cavalier touchdown when he intercepted Armezzani's pass and raced it to the Colonial 16. From there, George Grimes scored on an off-tackle play and also converted.

The final Colonial tally came in the closing minutes of the game when Frankie Cavallo recovered a Virginia fumble on the 31-yard line. Two plays later, during which Jimmy Kline was forced to leave the game because he was slightly shaken up, Charlie Butler heaved a pass from the 28-yard line to end Frank Close who scored. Cavallo's attempt was blocked.

Intramural Head Krupa University Boasts Full Scale Athletics Presents Fall Agenda

By SKIP FOSTER

COMPLETING PREPARATIONS for the 1947-48 intramural sports season, Joe Krupa, director of intramural athletics, announced the official opening of the intramural sports program with a desire to see this year's turnout the largest in university history.

"Of course," Krupa stated, "a successful sports season depends upon the spirit and interest the students show in the intramural program. It is primarily up to the students themselves to make this season a banner one."

Topping this year's list of intramural activities is the Touch Football Tournament which was captured last season by Kappa Alpha. Already signed up for this year's grid contest are the School of Pharmacy, Back Booth Boys, Hillel, and Newman Club teams.

With the addition of three new fraternities to the campus, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Tau Epsilon Pi and Delta Tau Delta, bringing the total to 16, extensive plans are underway for the organization of inter-frat leagues to compete in this year's program.

Registration is now open to all individuals interested in intramural swimming. All meets will be conducted at the Y.M.C.A. swimming pool. Plans are being made for the intramural basketball tourney which will begin some time in November. Bowling, volleyball, ping-pong and badminton are but a few of the many intramural activities to be offered during the 1947-48 season.

Within the next two weeks, arrangements will be made to have the University gymnasium available for all sporting events. From the ranks of the university physical education department, competent judges and officials will be chosen to officiate at all intramural contests. At the present time, the Intramural Council is (See INTRAMURAL, Pg. 12)

AFTER LAST YEAR'S inaugural attempt at a sports program deserving enough to represent the largest registration in the University's history, this year's effort has established a full athletic schedule, both intercollegiate and intramural, for the benefit of a still larger registration this year.

Last year's first post-war football team, handicapped by poor facilities, inexperienced players, and insufficient spring practice, played inspired football, which resulted in the winning of the majority of the games.

The basketball team had a successful season, winning 20 of the 26 games played. The team finished fourth in the Southern Conference tourney, held at Durham, after losing to North Carolina State in the semi-finals. Although

University Hoop Mentor Prepares For Rugged Slate

By Leonard Small

• COACH ARTHUR "OTTIS" ZAHN, the University hoop mentor now working on a full time basis, contends that a fast break defensive and greater cohesion on offense will be stressed mainly when the squad starts their initial workouts about Wednesday, October 8th.

Such highly rated teams as North Carolina State, champions of the Southern Conference, Navy, who incidentally will attempt to erase a defeat at the hands of our Colonials, Seton Hall, Duke, Maryland and the always formidable Georgetown quintet promise a thrilling season for the spectators.

The loss through graduation of Captain Jim Rausch, all Southern Conference choice, who at this writing plans to play professional basketball in Indiana, high scoring Barry Kreisberg, team man Edsel Gustafson, at present playing for the Brooklyn Dodgers professional football team, and tall, rangy John McNary will be keenly felt. However, Coach Zahn expects the nucleus of his team to be built around seven former freshmen from last year's squad and a high scoring junior, Bill Cantwell.

The seven squadmen, now sophomores, are Phil McNiff, Dave Shapiro, Maynard Halthcock, Len Small, Art Cerra, and Bernie Citrenbaum. Johnny Moffet, luminary of the 1945-46 five and a promising batch of tryouts will probably complete the team, but Zahn insists that all berths are wide open.

It is anticipated that seven home games will be played as double headers at the National Guard Armory which seats over ten thousand.

Touch Footballers? Contact Joe Krupa

• WITH THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the opening of the 1947-48 intra-mural sports season, the Athletic Department advises all students interested in forming teams to compete in the All-University Touch Football tournament to sign up with Joe Krupa, Director of Intramural Athletics at 2027 H Street.

All fraternity teams, independent teams, and individuals are requested to contact Joe Krupa any afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. Schedules for the coming tourney are now being set up and all necessary equipment will be made available to those participating.

the team lost a few of its starters through graduation, this year's team should have another fine season.

This year's baseball team supported by last year's foundation, is destined to have a better season. The new schedule calls for 20 games to be played against Southern Conference local and northern schools.

The tennis, golf and swimming teams will enlarge their schedules also. The tennis team will have its practice sessions and tournaments at local Country Clubs. The Colonials golfers will use the Kenwood Country Club and the swimming team will practice at the Y.M.C.A. pool, using the Ambassador Hotel pool for its home swimming meets.

With the record of a highly successful 1946-47 season under its belt, the athletic department hopes that all teams and individuals interested in signing up for this season's activities contact Joe Krupa at the athletic office, 2027 H Street, N. W.
